

Presentation: We aren't in Kansas Anymore - Navigating Covid 19, OSHA and the Lawyers!

More information about Dana Nathan Blose

Dana is the Loss Control Manager for Builder's Insurance Company. His primary duties include coordinating surveys completed by vendors, providing education to customers through classroom and webinar training and working in the field with customers.

Blose's formal education is Industrial Engineering. He is also a veteran of the US Air Force and the US Army. Blose started his loss control career in 1988 with USF&G in Birmingham, Alabama and through mergers he worked for the St. Paul and Travelers Insurance. He also worked for Fireman's Fund and Hanover Insurance. He has been with Builders Insurance Group for the last six years as their Loss Control Manager. Blose is an authorized OSHA outreach trainer for construction and general industry courses. Over his career he's worked as a specialist in; ergonomics, property protection, training, fleet, and products liability. He earned his ALCM in 1994.